About

Ambitious graduate student, always looking to progress my skills and knowledge, with 4+ years of software development under my belt which mostly consists of Java and the JVM. My focus is currently set on Clojure(Script), however I am open to other languages.

I'm always looking to challenge myself and make an impact on those around me, persuaded my college to change IDEs from Eclipse to IntelliJ IDEA and replace RedMine with Github as the default development tools.

Team leader with 3+ years managing groups of 2-4 people on various college projects.
